

Leave the No-Call List as it is. We do not want to receive any unsolicited calls. That is why we signed up for the no-call list in the first place. We will look very unfavorably on any unsolicited business that does call us, and we will we will make sure that we don't choose to do business with them in the future. We do not want to be bothered. We tend to look unfavorably on the banking institution as it is. They have way too much power already. Keep them out of our hair.
